

Fiddler Crabs:

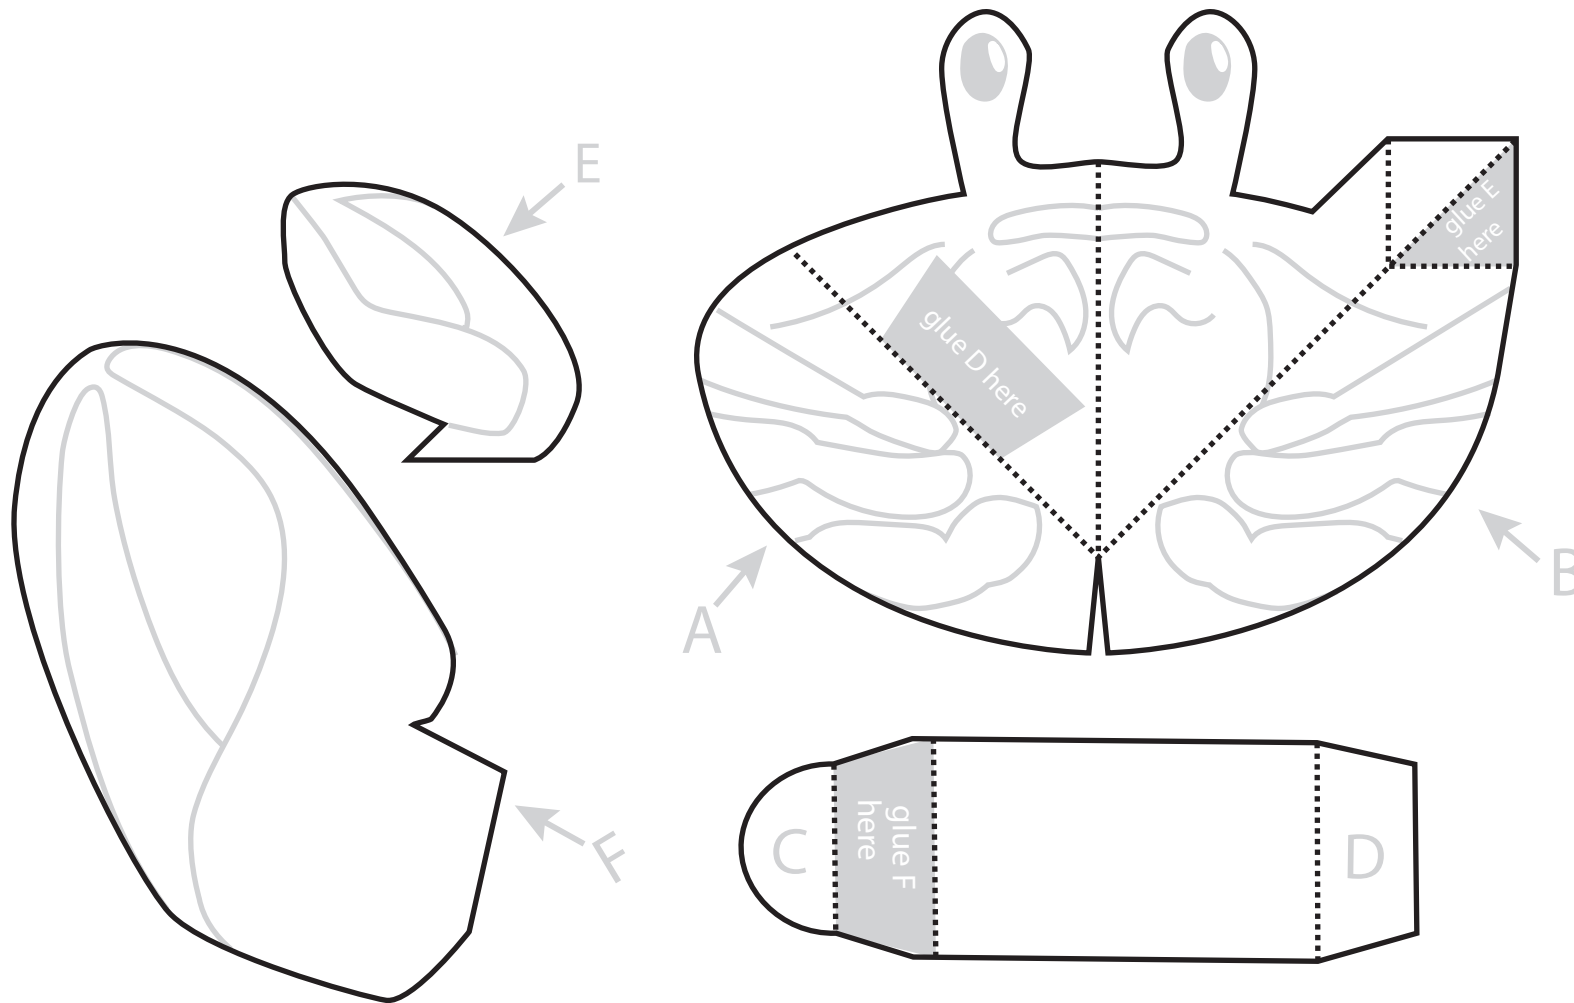

- Fiddler crabs are very small; the largest are only about 2 inches across.
- Males have one claw that is much larger than the other, but females do not.
- Crabs shed their shells as they grow, and can develop new limbs if they lose an arm or a leg.

LEGEND

— Cut Line

- - - Fold Line

LEARNING UNIT:
INSECTS & ARTHROPODS
Fiddler Crab
(Page 1 of 2)

LEGEND

— Cut Line

- - - Fold Line

